Character Education Through Sports

Do youth sports build character? The Play Like a Champion Today Educational Series has created a workshop that gives parents of children in grades K-8 the tools they need to provide a fun and enriching youth sports experience. Parent Like a Champion takes parents through a program designed to help them partner with coaches in the development of their Champion and empowers them to create a better youth sports culture. Parents are required to participate in a Workshop to register your child for sports in Catholic Schools.

Join Play Like a Champion Trainers for these upcoming Parent Like a Champion workshops in the Diocese of Norwich!

Saturday, August 26th from 8:30 - 9:30 am, Cathedral of Saint Patrick, Norwich
Monday, August 28th from 7:00 - 8:00 pm, St. John's School, Old Saybrook

Play Like A Champion Today Educational Series programs are research-based and child-centered approaches to youth and high school sports. This workshop was developed in collaboration with faculty at Notre Dame's Shaw Center for Children and Families and with social scientists, philosophers, theologians, sport scientists, physicians and parenting experts in universities- nationally and internationally. The series was also created in conjunction with faculty, coaches, and administrators from the University of Notre Dame. Register by Monday, August 14th for Fall Sports!
